If you're not familiar with CrossFit, you might think our prices are higher than your typical gym membership.

At CrossFit UOC, we programme your workouts, instruct the movements and will alter them to accommodate your current fitness level as necessary. We limit the size of our group classes which ensures that you receive the equivalent to semi-personal training.

You don't have to be great to start, but you have to start to be great

Crossfit terminology

New to Crossfit? Curious About the Words You've Heard Around the Box? Here's a Crossfit dictionary of terms we've compiled. Next time you walk into the gym, do so with your head held high. You're about to be an expert. Let's get started!

1. Foundational Knowledge
2. Movements
3. Equipment

Foundational Knowledge

- Box

Name of CrossFit gyms.

- AMRAP

AMRAP is simple: It stands for As Many Rounds (or Reps) as Possible. In circuit training, an AMRAP workout means you need to try to complete the circuit as many times as possible in the time you're given.

- EMOM

An acronym for "every minute on the minute," EMOM workouts challenge you to complete an exercise for a certain number of reps in less than 60 seconds.

- Ladder

A ladder is a workout where you increase reps of each exercise by one for each round.

- MetCon

A MetCon is a Metabolic Conditioning workout. MetCons are typically shorter workouts but they are designed to elevate you to a very high heart rate in a short period of time. They are used to train for stamina and conditioning.

- For time

When a workout is scored as "For Time," the goal is to complete the prescribed amount of work as fast as possible (AFAP). This is also known as a "task priority" (as opposed to "time priority") workout, because the workout is done when the athlete completes the defined task, however long it takes.

- PR

Personal record. Beat your time and record weight? That's a PR.

- Wod

Workout of the day. Series of exercises or number of reps for a timed workout.

Movements

- Air Squat

Think squatting without the weights. Seem easy? Try doing 150 and tell us how it feels.

- Band-Assisted Pull-Up

Think assisted pull-ups without the fuss of an expensive and cumbersome machine. You can use resistance bands looped over the bar to assist your pull-ups.

- Box Jump

Something you hate doing. Just kidding—it's one of the best workouts out there, so you better partake. Athletes jump on boxes of a specific height from a two-footed stationary stance.

- Burpees

Start standing up, bend down and plant your hands, kick back into a plank position, do a push-up. Then bring your legs back up and hop up.

- Clean

In the Clean, an athlete lifts the barbell from the floor to a racked position across the shoulders.

- Double-unders

A double-under is when a jump rope passes under your feet twice with only one jump. It can be quite the challenge, especially if you have to do a lot of them.

- Handstand Push-up

The Handstand Push-up, or HSPU is a challenging movement where athletes go in a handstand and then perform push-ups from that position.

- Muscle up

A muscle up is a pull-up directly followed by a dip. It's an advanced movement that takes time to master.

- Rope Climb

A rope climb is what it sounds like. It's challenging, but it's a fantastic exercise for cardio, strength and stamina.

- T2B

Toes to bar. When hanging from a bar, athletes bend only their waist and raise their toes to touch the bar. Yes, it's very difficult.

- Wall Ball

Wall Ball is a common CrossFit exercise where athletes stand facing a wall with a medicine ball, squat down and then explosively stand, flinging the ball upward and catching it. Prepare to do this often.

Equipment

- Abmat

An abmat is a foam wedge that an athlete places behind his or her back during sit-ups. The abmat provides padding against the pesky ground while increasing your range of motion.

- Kettlebell

A cast-iron or steel weight that looks like a cannonball with a looped handle. It's used for a variety of exercises from cardio to strength training.

- Paralettes

Paralettes are portable parallel bars that stand at a height of about eight inches. They are used to add complexity to certain (already) difficult movements such as handstand push ups.

- Rings

Rings refers to gymnastic rings, which are used in tons of CrossFit movements and exercises such as dips, rows, and muscle ups.

Class Schedule

We offer classes for every level and for as soon as our doors are re-opened we can't wait to welcome you into our spacious, covid-secure facility. Each person in class gets their own marked out bay, their own kit and their own cleaning equipment to make sure that we keep you as safe as possible. Our venue is a large, well ventilated space so you can rest assured that we are doing all we can to keep our members and coaches safe.
